This couple had a beautiful 6 acre piece of land in Quilcene. A friend referred them to PermaBilt® after being very pleased with their experience and the quality of their building. They had some idea of what they wanted, but were able to pin down the specifics after meeting with our Building Representative at the building site. They decided on board & batten siding as well as a sliding door with cross hatches to give it a rustic feel.

Once we completed construction, the customer went to work staining the siding a fabulous cedar color which gave their barn a rustic, classic feel perfect for their surroundings.

Home is where the heart is and they seem to find it with their PermaBilt® post frame building.
